Language and Culture Immersion

In French Polynesia aboard the m/s Paul Gauguin

with Professeur Isabelle Heidbreder and Tahiti specialist Crista Carr Shatz

October 30-November 7, 2010

Sail aboard a top-rated small ship while experiencing a new level of authentic interaction with people and place.

Absorb the blend of French and Polynesian culture that make Tahiti one of the most unique destinations on earth with a superb instructor known for her sparkling style and excellence in teaching.

Experience an innovative program of daily language instruction, cultural exchange and legendary hospitality designed exclusively for our group by bilingual Tahitian naturalists and educators.

Combine language lessons with:

Learning marine biology and Polynesian lore from locals

Talking French politics (a favorite Tahitian pastime!)

A Champagne stroll on the beach or paddling an outrigger canoe

Private visits to studios, marine institute, museums, wildlife sanctuaries and more

Ship tours from engine room to crow's nest, and dinner at the captain's table

Chatting with shopkeepers in colorful marketplaces

Bora Bora sunset viewing or yoga on the deck at dawn

Gazing at the Southern Cross with an astronomer as we glide from isle to isle by night, greeted and guided by friends each day at a new port of call
